DARK LANTERN SESSION OF

Held Last Night, at Which There Was a Tie Vote.

ON QUESTION OF REPORTING

Objectionable Saloon Licenses Council-Some of the Details of the Meeting.

The council committee on patitions and remonstrances met in dark lantern or executive session last night, interested citizens and representatives of the press being excluded. The committee met in the office of the chief of police, behind barred doors. Those present were Chairman Bradbury, and Councilmen Bachman, Bloomfield, Williams, M. A. Chew, Zwicker, Ritter. City Solicitor Boyce, also, was present The committee discussed the alleged ob-jectionable license applications at great length, and finally a motion to recommend the granting of the entire bunch, was defeated, 3 to 3, and the applications go to council without recommendation, The committee first took up the applications of Otto Fish, 39 Eighteenth street, and Richard Wilkie, 1923 Main street, on the report of the city solicitor as to the legality or propriety of the special agreemnt with the city which Fish and Wilkie state they are willing to enter into. The city solicitor's opinon was that such a special agreement rould be inadvisable, and he strongly advised against it, in the following WHEELING, W. Va., May 11, 1900.

WHEELING, W. Va., May II, 1890. To the honorable committee on Petitions and remonstrances of the council of the city of Wheeling:

GENTLEMEN: — Your committee has handed to me two paper writings executed by Richard Wilkle and Oto Fish, which papers accompanied their application for a license to keep a coffee house in the city of Wheeling. Wilkle and Fish, by eadd papers, agree that if granted the license they will conduct saloons in strict accordance with the laws of West Virginia and the ordinances of the city of Wheeling. Each makes the following special promise:

wheeling. Each makes the following special promise:

"That he will not at any time under any clreumstances or on any occasion whatever, permit any lewd women or girls or any females of bad reputation to enter his saicon, and that he will not sell or give drinks to any such women or harbor or permit them to lolter about, or under any circumstances to enter into or remain in his saicon or any part of his building. He forther promises as a condition precedent to his obtaining the license, that he will waive all his rights to notice or to a hearing in case the said city shall at any time desire to revoke his license."

I am asked for an opinion as to the binding effect and force of said agreement and also as to the effect of a special bond covering above questions. A licensee holds his license subject to the laws of the state and the ordinances of the city in which the license is executed. The ordinance of the city of Wheeling embraces these questions completely; the ordinance provides that the person conducting a coffee house shall not permit women from the character mentioned in the sale-greenent to enter the licensee's a conviction council, upon notice and a hearing given the offender would be improper for two reasons: First, that these questions are already provided for by the ordinances, and secondly, because it would establish contractual relations between the licensee and the city, which, in my opinion, ought not to exist. As to the waiving of any notice and hearing upon a violation sterweet the licensee and the city, which, in my opinion, ought not to exist. As to the waiving of any notice and hearing upon a violation of the ordinances regulating the manner in which the effect, of the waiving of any notice and hearing upon a violation of the ordinance regulating the manner in which the giving of a special bond, I am strongly of the ophnion that such an agreement; unwise for the reason that I doubt the effects of the provision of the ordinance at present giving the city ample remedy. W. C. Handlan, Jr., Sec'y-Mgr.

With good weather there will doubt-less be a large throng of people at Mo-sart park Sunday afternoon, to hear the of entering into such an agreemen with Fish and Wilkie, and said they ought to be given another chan-Mr. Williams objected and said it leys are certain to command a large would establish a dangerous precedent, and he did not believe such an agree lority is being voiced all through the ment could be enforced. Suppose ther confines of local bowlerdom. After the was a violation of the agreement, and weather gets warmer, the Sunday conthe license were taken away; could come back with the claim that they had had no hearing as prescribed in the ordinances of the city.

Mr. M. A. Chew suggested the annul-ment of the present ordinance that provides for two convictions in police court before council can revoke license Solleiter Boyce said he was not pri pared at the moment to give an opinion as to the legality of such action. He believed, however, that the ordinance ould not be annulled or amended.

Mr. Chew favored amendment of th ordinance so that council could revoke s license-at its pleasure, without having to walt for two convictions in police court for violations of its provisions. There were councilmen who were willing to give these people a chance to run decent places, and if the ordinance providing for two convictions could be changed and the special agreement made to apply it would be possible to give them this chance.

Mr. Boyce did not favor changing the rdinance. It was entirely a legal question with him; in this matter he knew nobody, but was looking to the best in-terests of the city. He felt that it would be a mistake to amend the ordinance. Mr. Zwicker added that such a change ould enable councilmen to get in spits work against saloonists.

The committee next discussed what action it would take with the entire bunch of applications before it, which were as follows: Paul Blery, 1032 Market street; Valentine Liebold, 1028-30 Market street; Joseph Barum, 2006 Main street; J. B. Wilkie, 7-9 Sixteenth street; G. A. Landmesser, 1044 Market street; W. O. Walker, 1123 Water street; James Robinson, 1148 Water street; Harding & Smith, 1516 Main street; Richard Wilkie, 1923 Main street; Otto Fish, 29 Eighreguth street.

During the discussion, two of the committee became engaged in a wordy war, inches and rising.

In which one member said that another knew that a certain saloon was a place falling; locals on time.

The latter denied the allegation, where upon the other said he would not be lieve him if he made oath to his asser-

The motion was defeated. The application of James Robinson, at he Goldstrohm place, was next discussed, and a member of the committee aleged that Robinson was simply applying for the license for Goldstrohm, knowing that the latter could not se cure it. This was denied, however, and the statement was made that Goldstromh had made only a small payment on the place to Robinson, who would now purchase it back in good faith.

The committee then decided to take a vote on sending the entire bunch to council with a recommendation for favorable action. The vote was a tie, as follows:

To grant-Ritter, Zwicker and Chev r Bachman.

To reject-Bloomfield, Bradbury and thew or Bachman. Mr. Williams, of the committee, has retired before the vote was taken. The committee recommended favorably the aplications of O'Brien & Gollner, 2145 Market street; Carenba O'Malley, 2301 Main street, and H. L. Wheat, 1601 Market street.

Health Committee.

The committee on health met, with Chairman W. G. Caldwell presiding, and Messrs. Meyer, Williams and Megrail present. Bills to the amount of $203 25 were recommended to council for pay-ment. Contractor W. J. Hamilton appeared and stated that he had practically completed his crematory contract; $1,000 of the $3,400 had already been paid, and he desired $2,000 more. committee recommended that this amount be paid. Mr. Hamilton asked that the committee visit the crematory and accept the work. No date was set for the visit.
